

CAREER GROWTH ISN'T JUST A POSSIBILITY; IT'S THE CULTURE AT WEP CLINICAL

By Gabby Sorenson,
Head of Global Project
Management, Clinical Nursing

Over the past 8+ years, I've grown alongside WEP Clinical, through multiple departments, evolving roles, and new challenges that have pushed me to become a stronger leader. As the company has expanded, so has its commitment to developing its people, and I'm proud to be living proof of that.

My journey began in 2017 as a Project Manager. Through hard work, adaptability, and support from incredible colleagues, I advanced to Senior Project Manager in 2020 and then to Associate Director of Project Management in 2021. Each step taught me something new about leadership, strategic thinking, and building high-performing teams.

In 2024, I embraced a new opportunity as Associate Director of Clinical Monitoring, a role that not only highlighted WEP Clinical's strong support for internal mobility but also gave me the chance to build something from the ground up.

After a successful year, in July 2025, I stepped into my current role as Director of Project Management, Clinical Nursing, where I have the privilege of leading a talented team of Project Managers who are driving innovation at the forefront of home healthcare.

At WEP Clinical, career growth isn't just talked about; it's truly built into the way we work. I've been fortunate to explore new paths, take on new challenges, and grow into leadership roles across different teams. I'm grateful, not just for the opportunities, but for a company culture that believes in investing in its people every step of the way.

Key Takeaways

Through all of this, I've learned a few things that have stayed with me:

Growth takes time - be humble and patient

Master what's in front of you before looking ahead

Quality over quantity always wins

Be prompt, proactive, and transparent

Lift others up- team success is shared success

I'm so grateful for the people, the support, and the culture at WEP Clinical that have helped shape my journey. If you're someone who's passionate about learning, growing, and making a difference, this is the kind of place where you can truly thrive.
